God's Word to You

A Summary of the Bible

In the beginning, the all-powerful, personal God created the universe. This God created human beings in His image to live joyfully in His presence, in humble submission to His gracious authority. But all of us have rebelled against God and, in consequence, must suffer the punishment of our rebellion: physical death and the wrath of God.

Thankfully, God initiated a rescue plan, which began with His choosing the nation of Israel to display His glory in a fallen world. The Bible describes how God acted mightily on Israel's behalf, rescuing His people from slavery and then giving them His holy law. But God's people—like all of us—failed to rightly reflect the glory of God.

Then, in the fullness of time, in the Person of Jesus Christ, God Himself came to renew the world and to restore His people. Jesus perfectly obeyed the law given to Israel. Though innocent, He suffered the consequences of human rebellion by His death on a cross. But three days later, God raised Him from the dead.

Now the church of Jesus Christ has been commissioned by God to take the news of Christ's work to the world. Empowered by God's Spirit, the church calls all people everywhere to repent of sin and to trust in Christ alone for our forgiveness. Repentance and faith restores our relationship with God and results in a life of ongoing transformation.

The Bible promises that Jesus Christ will return to this earth as the conquering King. Only those who live in repentant faith in Christ will escape God's judgment and live joyfully in God's presence for all eternity. God's message is the same to all of us: repent and believe, before it is too late. Confess with your mouth that Jesus is Lord and believe with your heart that God raised Him from the dead, and you will be saved.

General Editor—The Gospel Project

This Is Our Time: Everyday Myths in Light of the Gospel

If you've been using The Gospel Project for any length of time, you know that every session comes with a "missional application." This is our way of asking,

"How does this passage we are studying equip us to live on mission for God's kingdom?" Gospel-centeredness is tightly tied to mission because the gospel is the story of a God with a missionary heart, a God who loves this world He has created and desires all to come to repentance (2 Pet. 3:9). To be gospel-centered isn't just about getting the gospel right; it's about getting the gospel out. We are to show and share the love of God.

This volume of The Gospel Project focuses heavily on the mission efforts of the early Christians. They were filled with and empowered by the Holy Spirit to go out into the world and make disciples. We see in these sessions a church on fire for God and His mission. We meet apostles who grow and learn how God's embrace reaches across cultural dividing lines. We see how the apostles were broken over the lostness they saw in the world around them but also how they engaged and confronted with boldness the world's idolatry by showing the power and beauty of Jesus. Our prayer is that this volume of The Gospel Project will increase your confidence and passion in sharing the gospel. We are sent by God to the world around us. Let's not miss one single moment to live on mission and bring glory to God our Savior!

Daily Study

Day 1: Read 2 Peter 1:1-4

When a man and woman mutually agree to date for the purpose of getting to know each other for a season, it could appear that the two are incompatible. Their days are probably filled with text messages, phone calls, and many dates in between—some planned, others spontaneous. Whether the like or not, the two of them occupy one another's thoughts for the majority of the day.

Our desire to know more about Jesus should be similar to this. The greater Christ is infinitely glorious—the more radiant, for more grace, and the more grand than anything anyone we could ever imagine. Thus, we should desire to search the Scriptures and to pray and commune with God so as to discover more about Him. After all, how can we possibly get beyond with the One who is more captivating than anything or anyone we could ever lay our eyes upon? It is by God's power that we have this knowledge that enables a life of godliness. God's people should value this knowledge and seek to gain more and more of it, not just on an intellectual level, which is certainly important, but on a heart level as well.

2 What are some habits or routines you can establish that will help you seek to know God more when your faith may not decide Him?

Voices from Church History

"Obtain your dignity, O Christian. Do not have the same rank as pagans of the above nation, do not return to your former impiety by the uncertainty of that dignity. Remember, which benefit is a more certain one or which you constitute a member?"
—Leo the Great (d. 445)

Day 2: Read 2 Peter 1:5-7

It's very easy to look past the four small words in verse 5 of this passage—"For this very reason." For what reason should the Christian make every effort to supplement their faith? It is precisely because God has given us everything we need for life and godliness. Therefore, we should pursue goodness, knowledge, self-control, endurance, godliness, brotherly affection, and love.

If someone were to hand you a million dollars, you wouldn't just keep it in the dining table without paying your bill. You would use that money gladly in order to fulfill the rightful purpose money was designed for. How much more should we pursue true godly virtues by honoring God with our entire lives? Our godly lives are not just for ourselves but we share a joy with God that God will let off the rest of us in Christ.

2 What godly characteristics do you need to be pursuing, and how will you do so?

Day 3: Read 2 Peter 1:8-11

Two runners assume their positions for a track race. Both athletes run initially with all of their might in order to win the race. But one runner gets distracted by the audience and loses momentum in her stride. Losing focus and momentum, she soon slips over a shoulder. Because of this series of events, the other runner wins without experiencing any delays in her stride.

Peter speaks about a similar scenario in verse 10. As we run the race of the Christian life, it can become easy to get distracted with various demands of our lives. As a result of succumbing to distraction, we lose confidence in our race. A lack of assurance about our standing with God can cause us to retreat from living godly lives. Thankfully, we can have confidence in our victory if we keep our eyes on Jesus and the salvation He provided.

2 How can you strive to live in a godly manner in order to fight doubt and pursue the assurance the Holy Spirit gives?

During the week following the session, use the five Daily Study devotions to build on the foundation laid during the "Group Time." These devotions will help you get into God's Word for yourself and take initiative in your own discipleship. Read the Scriptures, respond to the questions, and grow in the faith.

Day 4: Read 2 Peter 1:12-15

Children often need quite a few reminders: "Don't forget to clean your room!" "Please remember to say please and thank you!"

Repetition is invaluable to parents because children easily forget. They become distracted. They slide so much that they may lose track of what you said to them even moments prior.

God's children also need reminders because we easily forget. Similar to Deo, we often hear what God said but are prone to forget His Word (especially Gen. 3:1-3)—sometimes due to ignorance, other times due to rebellion. Peter made a point in his letter to remind his readers of the things he mentioned previously, so they can remain in the Christian's vitality. Therefore, we also should recognize our own propensity to forget and readily respond accordingly by reading up God's Word over and over for the rest of our days.

2 How can you be intentional about reminding yourself of God's truth on a daily basis?

Day 5: Read 2 Peter 1:16-21

Peter recalled by his very own experience that the prophecies about the Messiah written all throughout Scripture were fulfilled in Jesus' life, proving the legitimacy of the gospel. Peter here reminds in this passage that he, James, and John literally saw the majesty of Christ firsthand as hearing God the Father affirm the identity of His Son (Matt. 17:1-8; Mark 9:2-8; Luke 9:28-36). Jesus was the Messiah to come who had now come!

Jesus is Lord, the incarnate Son of God. None of these facts are directly contained within. As God the Father bestowed the disciples to Jesus as the Son in the flesh, we too should listen to the testimony of His Son promised through the divine revelation we have in Scripture.

2 Why is the eyewitness testimony of the apostles and the early disciples useful for fighting the doubts we might have about the truthfulness of the gospel?

Encourage One Another

Join together with 2-4 people from your group, or with your family, sometime during the week to reflect on the session and to share how God is working and you are responding.

Share your thoughts and reflections on the results from Scripture in this session:

- God's people pursue godly living through what Jesus has done? (2 Pet. 1:3-4).
- God's people pursue godly living with effort? (2 Pet. 1:5-7).
- God's people pursue godly living to confirm their calling? (2 Pet. 1:8-11).

- 1 How have you responded to these truths from Scripture?
- 2 What is the role of the church in helping believers obtain assurance of their salvation?
- 3 Why should we see the local church as the normal and primary context for learning what it means to lead a godly life?

Unit 28

The Holy Spirit Comes

Acts; Epistles

Memory Verse

“His divine power has given us everything required for life and godliness through the knowledge of him who called us by his own glory and goodness.”

—2 PETER 1:3

Transformed by the Holy Spirit

SESSION IN A SENTENCE: Jesus had promised to send the Holy Spirit to the disciples, and when He arrived, the Spirit filled them and empowered them to be Jesus' witnesses.

BACKGROUND PASSAGE: Acts 2

Imagine a family member who is never grateful for his or her gifts. Perhaps at Christmas each year this person lets you know it. Sometimes it's just a shrug—"Hmm. Thanks." Other times it's a direct comment—"You should've gotten me such-and-such instead." Then, in an effort to finally win this person's approval, you offer a sentimental gift based on a shared experience, and the person's first response is "I don't understand this." Needless to say, such a person's ungrateful attitude would make Christmas, birthdays, and similar occasions difficult.

Have you ever given a gift that was not appreciated? How did it make you feel?

Group Time

Point 1: The Holy Spirit indwells and fills God's people (Acts 2:1-4).

¹ When the day of Pentecost had arrived, they were all together in one place. ² Suddenly a sound like that of a violent rushing wind came from heaven, and it filled the whole house where they were staying. ³ They saw tongues like flames of fire that separated and rested on each one of them. ⁴ Then they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in different tongues, as the Spirit enabled them.

When we read Acts 2:1-4, our minds should be drawn immediately to the glorious truth that God Himself has come to live inside of us in God the Holy Spirit. The coming of the Spirit is a foretaste of the age to come, what theologians often call the “already/not yet” expression of God’s kingdom. The Spirit’s dwelling inside believers marks them as God’s temple, a preview to the world of what new creation life will be like. Thus, we celebrate the Holy Spirit because He is God living in us, leading us toward a new eternal city where there is no death, pain, tears, or division (Rev. 21–22).

What are some reasons we might overlook the presence and work of the Holy Spirit in our lives?

Personality of the Holy Spirit: The Bible not only affirms the full _____ of the Holy Spirit but also His _____.

Many people have mistakenly believed that the Spirit is a force or power, not a person. However, Scripture affirms His personhood by acknowledging that He is treated as a person, acts like a person, has _____ of a person, and acts in personal ways. In addition to these, the Bible also affirms that Christians _____ to Him personally.

So, the Holy Spirit is a gift, but is He optional? Why should we obey the Holy Spirit?

- First, we obey the Holy Spirit because He is God.
- Second, we obey the Holy Spirit because He reminds us of the gospel.
- Third, we obey the Holy Spirit because He has sealed our salvation.

Point 2: The Holy Spirit empowers and emboldens God's people (Acts 2:22-24,36-40).

²² “Fellow Israelites, listen to these words: This Jesus of Nazareth was a man attested to you by God with miracles, wonders, and signs that God did among you through him, just as you yourselves know. ²³ Though he was delivered up according to God’s determined plan and foreknowledge, you used lawless people to nail him to a cross and kill him. ²⁴ God raised him up, ending the pains of death, because it was not possible for him to be held by death.

³⁶ “Therefore let all the house of Israel know with certainty that God has made this Jesus, whom you crucified, both Lord and Messiah.”

³⁷ When they heard this, they were pierced to the heart and said to Peter and the rest of the apostles, “Brothers, what should we do?”

³⁸ Peter replied, “Repent and be baptized, each of you, in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins, and you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. ³⁹ For the promise is for you and for your children, and for all who are far off, as many as the Lord our God will call.” ⁴⁰ With many other words he testified and strongly urged them, saying, “Be saved from this corrupt generation!”

The gift of the Holy Spirit is the power for our Christian living and our proclamation of the gospel. Just a few weeks prior to this event, the disciples had abandoned Jesus, and Peter had denied he ever knew Him (Matt. 26:56,69-74). Now, with the Holy Spirit, they were boldly proclaiming Jesus as the crucified and resurrected Messiah and Lord.

Why does proclaiming the gospel require boldness from the Holy Spirit?

We know we ought to listen to the Holy Spirit for direction and encouragement, but how? Many spiritual disciplines could be discussed here, but the primary way the Holy Spirit speaks to us is through the Scriptures, through which He reminds us of the gospel. Bible reading is not a “fix-all” for sin and doubt, but the Bible is God’s primary means of communication through the Holy Spirit so we resist sin and conquer doubt.

Inspiration of Scripture: The inspiration of Scripture was achieved most often through the supernatural influence of the _____ through the personalities of the authors so that their writings can be considered the very words of _____.

Point 3: The Holy Spirit works through God's people to grow the church (Acts 2:41-47).

⁴¹ So those who accepted his message were baptized, and that day about three thousand people were added to them.

⁴² They devoted themselves to the apostles' teaching, to the fellowship, to the breaking of bread, and to prayer.

⁴³ Everyone was filled with awe, and many wonders and signs were being performed through the apostles. ⁴⁴ Now all the believers were together and held all things in common. ⁴⁵ They sold their possessions and property and distributed the proceeds to all, as any had need. ⁴⁶ Every day they devoted themselves to meeting together in the temple, and broke bread from house to house. They ate their food with joyful and sincere hearts, ⁴⁷ praising God and enjoying the favor of all the people. Every day the Lord added to their number those who were being saved.

This new community of faith participated in the epic story of Jesus in seemingly mundane ways—a bunch of normal folks, like you and me, praying, eating, and worshiping together. The implications of being one body united in Christ weren't merely ethereal and otherworldly for the early Christians—they were visible and tangible in the Spirit-filled church community. And the result was the growth of the church.

How does numerical growth in the church relate to growth in spiritual health and vitality?

We live in a different context than did the newly forming church in Jerusalem. But the key ingredients to church growth haven't changed; our calling is the same. Like the early church, we are to love one another (John 13:35), sharing our lives together, and we are to go make disciples of all nations (Matt. 28:18-20), inviting others to join us in the faith and in our calling to live by and keep in step with the Spirit (Gal. 5:25).

Voices from the Church

"The Christian's life in all its aspects—intellectual and ethical, devotional and relational, upsurging in worship and outgoing in witness—is supernatural; only the Spirit can initiate and sustain it. So apart from him, not only will there be no lively believers and no lively congregations, there will be no believers and no congregations at all."¹

—J. I. Packer

Daily Study

Day 1: Read Acts 2:1-13

As mentioned in the session, sometimes Christians argue over the role of the Holy Spirit, particularly in elements of Christian worship such as speaking in tongues. Interestingly, this “debate” was going on immediately after the Holy Spirit was poured out on the first Christians. Some onlookers even accused them of being drunk!

While we cannot examine the various views of spiritual gifts here, it is worth reflecting generally on our attitude toward those with whom we disagree, including our brothers and sisters in Christ. Because none of us are perfect or infallible, we may disagree about certain interpretations of Scripture. However, we should all agree that when the gift of the Holy Spirit is poured out on people, we should rejoice at God’s work in the world.

Instead of scoffing at others, like those in the crowd in this passage, we can rejoice any time when someone is rejoicing in God for His work in his or her life. We are all prone toward skepticism and doubt at times, but unlike the scoffers, we should stand ready to rejoice when the Holy Spirit works in us and in the world.

In what circumstances do you tend toward skepticism when people praise God for something?

Voices from Church History

“Light cannot be separated from what it makes visible, and it is impossible for you to recognize Christ, the Image of the invisible God, unless the Spirit enlightens you.”³

—Basil of Caesarea
(c. 330-379)

Day 2: Read Acts 2:14-21

In this passage, Peter somewhat hilariously rebuked the crowd for accusing the new believers of being drunk—“It’s only 9 a.m.,” he reminded them. However, Peter’s larger point is clear: This was not some sort of lunacy—this was the work of God.

Quoting Joel 2, Peter told the Jewish onlookers that what they were witnessing was actually a promise that their God had made long before. If they had ears to hear, they would know that these languages being spoken served as a sign of God’s promises.

The Jews should’ve been the people most ready to receive this news. After all, this was a direct prophecy from their Scriptures. But instead, some of them doubted the work of God in the lives of these early Christians. Peter reminded them that God is always at work, among every nation, tribe, and tongue, and this is evident if they will only remember God’s promise through the prophet Joel.

 In what ways do you see God at work around you, and how can you join in His mission?

Day 3: Read Acts 2:22-28

Peter told the crowd here that Jesus was crucified as part of the plan of God, of course, but that His crucifixion happened at the hands of those who rejected Him. In Scripture, there is an apparent tension between the sovereignty of God—the fact that He is all-powerful and in full control over history—and humanity’s responsibility for sin—the fact that human beings genuinely choose to sin. Ultimately, God is never blamed for sin and humankind is always responsible for the sin committed.

Peter quoted Psalm 16:8-11 as a way of wisdom: rejoice in Christ and put your hope in Him. Jesus’ resurrection is the ultimate proof that God kept His promises to save His people. This was directed at the Jewish scoffers, but it is applicable to all of us. We should never join those who turn their backs on Christ by “recrucifying the Son of God and holding him up to contempt” (Heb. 6:6). Rather, we should place our hope in His promises, receiving the Holy Spirit and listening to His voice.

 Christ can’t literally be crucified twice, of course, but how do our sin and doubt figuratively “recrucify” Him?

Day 4: Read Acts 2:29-40

This sermon by Peter was the first proclamation of the gospel after Christ's ascension into heaven. Peter broke it down for the crowd: Unlike David or any other biblical hero, Christ died, was buried, resurrected, and ascended to the Father's right hand. Whatever or whomever you see as a hero or exalted figure, only Christ is Lord. Therefore, allegiance to Him, submission to His authority, and the acts of repentance and baptism are the logical conclusions.

The gift of the Holy Spirit is God's promise to seal us for salvation and empower us to live out the gospel. From these first-century Jewish scoffers to your next-door neighbor, all are called to respond to this proclamation. Indeed, even Christians with the Holy Spirit's help are called to remember and live in light of the gospel (John 14:26).

How will you introduce the gospel to someone in your life?

Day 5: Read Acts 2:41-47

After all we've read in this session, the culmination of the story is God's people believing, embodying, and sharing the gospel. While God did a miraculous work at Pentecost, He still saves multitudes of people every day all over the globe. We often pray for "revival," and rightly so, but sometimes this prayer can downplay the everyday, seemingly mundane aspects of gospel living.

These people were living, breathing miracles—every one of them transformed by the power of the Holy Spirit. They had received a gift and rejoiced in it daily. They worshiped together through believing and proclaiming right doctrine, hanging out and eating together, serving one another and their neighbors, and joyfully and humbly walking through the day-to-day grind of life. There was nothing special about these people other than they had been given the Holy Spirit and were willing to listen to Him. As each of us receives the Holy Spirit through faith in Jesus, may we do the same.

What are 2-3 aspects of this description of the early church that you can grow in?
